

FOUR KEY PRINCIPLES – CRC- RELEVANCE TO HUMANITARIAN ACTION:

SESSION OBJECTIVES

Understanding CRC in the context of Humanitarian Work.

SURVIVAL AND DEVELOPMENT (ART 6)

As well as children's right to life, humanitarian workers must also consider the effects of the emergency and the response on the physical, psychological, emotional, social and spiritual development of children.

NON-DISCRIMINATION (ART 2)

Emergencies often magnify existing differences and further marginalise those already at risk of discrimination. Humanitarians must identify and monitor existing and new patterns of discrimination and power, and tackle them in the response.

CHILD PARTICIPATION

- Humanitarian workers must ensure that girls and boys are given space and time to meaningfully participate at all possible stages of an emergency preparedness and response. Boys and girls of different ages and abilities, and with different perspectives, should be supported to express their views in safety, and these views should be regarded with respect and taken seriously.
- Humanitarian workers must be aware of their own values, beliefs and assumptions about childhood and the roles of the child and the family, and avoid imposing these on children. They should enable developmentally appropriate ways of child participation, share power with children in decision making, and be sensitive to how children's participation can, when done poorly, upset children's social roles and power relations.

THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE CHILD (ART 3)
